

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use.

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I found that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold, which, by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since. I am now a healthy man, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Youker, Salem, N. J.

AMONG THE RAILROADS.

POINTS OF INTEREST PICKED UP HERE AND THERE.

The Trains Come in On Time—A Little Disagreeable Between the Central Railroad of Georgia and the Comptroller General, About Taxes On Sleeping Cars of Non-Resident Lines.

All of the trains were reported on time yesterday.

The new law passed at the last session of the legislature requires the railroad of Georgia to make returns for taxation of the miles of road over which sleeping cars of non-resident lines run. General Manager Belknap, of the Central, declines to make this special return to the comptroller-general on the ground that all cases of non-resident corporations handled by the Central, according to a late decision of the supreme court of the United States on the interstate commerce law, are not subject to taxation by the state. The comptroller-general has renewed his request that the return be made according to law and when this is done will accept the mileage and issue a bill for the tax. The Central will probably exercise its right to go into the courts.

A Prominent Railroad.

Mr. Ralph Peters, one of the most successful and prominent young railroad men in the country, is spending a few days with relatives here at his home. As superintendent of divisions of the great Pennsylvania system, he stands among the railroad leaders of the country. Young, thoroughly equipped with practical knowledge, Ralph Peters is one of the coming railroad kings. Look out for him!

The Anniston and Montgomery.

The work of constructing the Anniston and Montgomery railroad will be begun by the 1st of May, and the road will be pushed as fast as men and money can do it. The distance is 110 miles, and the money to build the first twenty-five miles has been subscribed.

The Louisville and Nashville Railroad company is about to adopt the electric lighting system. Twenty-seven railroad lines have already adopted this system, and it is found to be of such value that no doubt all of them will use it sooner or later.

The anti-magnetic shield is an inside case that can be used on any watch, which protects it from magnetic influences. The owner of a watch can, without fear of the least injury to it, enter any electric lighting works when protected by the shield. It makes it possible for conductors and engineers to rely upon the correctness of their time, even down to fifteen seconds variation.

Montezuma Special.

The next Montezuma special via the Piedmont Air-line will leave Washington on Tuesday at 5:30 p. m. It will arrive in Atlanta at 4 p. m. the following day. The trip is through St. Antonio, Monclova and intermediate points to the City of Mexico. The entire trip taking about five days. Two days are given in the City of Mexico before beginning the return trip.

A Big Consolidation.

The stockholders of the Big Four, Bee-Line and the Cleveland, Cairo and Vincennes railroads are holding a meeting in New York for the purpose of consolidating the three great systems under the name of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago railroad company. It is a certainty that at least these three roads will effect a consolidation. Two meetings of stockholders have already been held in New York, and at each the proceedings were made a profound secret. It is understood that the consolidation will not be completed in all its details until July.

With the announcement of the above mentioned contents, the consolidation will be completed. The Cleveland and Cincinnati will eventually be incorporated in the agreement.

More Interstate Regulations.

The various offices in the city have just received the amendment of the interstate commerce commission to the act adopted March 2, regulating commerce. It says:

"Schedules shall be plainly printed in large type, and copies of the same shall be posted in two public and conspicuous places in each depot, station, or office of such carrier where passengers are received, and in such places as may be convenient to the public, and may be conveniently inspected."

"The commission may determine and prescribe the form in which the schedules required by this section shall be kept open to public inspection shall be prepared and arranged, and may change the form from time to time, as shall be found expedient."

"The posting of these schedules in two public and conspicuous places is now imperative, and is a subject which should be kept open to public inspection shall be prepared and arranged, and may change the form from time to time, as shall be found expedient."

THE BAGGING TRUST.

COMMISSIONER HENDERSON MAKES SOME SUGGESTIONS.

He says that the Farmers should not be caught napping this year, and he wishes to the Opinion that the Bagging Trust, from Pine Straw in Georgia Mills will furnish a remedy for the Evil.

"What do you know about the bagging supply for the fall of 1889?" was asked of Commissioner Henderson yesterday.

"Absolutely nothing."

"Have you made any inquiry about it?"

"I have inquired of every one coming into the office likely to give any information, and, besides, I have written two letters to the Acme Manufacturing Company, at Wilmington, N. C., and I find all parties either wholly ignorant or reticent as to what is going on in that line."

"Well, what would you suggest should be done under the circumstances?"

"If their attention has not been already called thereto it is important, in view of the fact that they meet on the 4th of April, that the alliance should take some steps at once concerning this matter. It would be disastrous should they be caught napping again, as was the case last fall."

"Do you think it would be likely to be worse for them than it was then?"

"Of course I do. The combine among the jute manufacturers then formed will strengthen, not weaken by age, and instead of paying fourteen cents for bagging, the farmer may be driven to a large advance on that exorbitant price."

"In that event, what, in your opinion, would be the remedy?"

"The only remedy I know of is for the organized farmer, through mills of their own, to engage in the manufacture of pine straw bagging, particularly if, after investigation, it is found that sufficient capital is not already invested in that now important branch of industry."

"Do you think nothing else could be substituted for the pine straw?"

"Oh, yes, many other things would do quite as well, perhaps even better. You will probably remember the Odenheimer cotton bagging, which was manufactured in New Orleans last fall, was used then to the extent of the mill's capacity, which capacity was only about 15,000 yards per day. It was then considered a good substitute for jute, some even preferring it to jute. The Lanier mills, near West Point, made a kind of duck, also made of cotton, which answered a good purpose and was used to the extent of the mill's capacity, but both of these fabrics are sold at figures too high for the farmers. I was told by an operator at the Augusta exposition that they would be able to produce the pine straw bagging at eight cents per yard."

"Probably for a new industry this might be considered a fair price. Certainly preferable to jute at 14 cents, or Odenheimer at 12 cents. Again, unless something like the straw is used—which is full up in the matter of weight—a readjustment of the tare would be necessary."

"For these two considerations, if no other, I rather lean to the use of the straw bagging."

"What amount of this bagging would be necessary to clothe the cotton crop of the south?"

"That question is very easy to answer. Allowing six yards to the bale, it would take 30,000,000 yards to clothe 5,000,000 bales, which is approximately the crop of the south. The crop was larger last year than for years, and you know that of no other material at the south of which bagging could be made."

"Oh, yes, a number of them. The Spanish bagging, a sample of which was shown to me, affords a fibre superior by far to pine straw or even jute. The banana leaf is also superior, in my opinion, to jute, and I am told that either of these articles can be produced at a very low figure, almost a nominal cost. A gentleman from the lower part of the state suggested during last fall that the saw palmetto from his section would make a fine substitute for jute, and latterly, a gentleman while in this office suggested bermuda grass as being equal to any emergency."

SHE WHIPPED THE BOY

Because of Something He Said Outside of School Hours.

Mrs. Eugenia C. Ford, who lives at 108 Pine street, lodged a complaint before the board of education against Mrs. Charlotte M. Hershaw, a teacher in the Gate City school.

Mrs. Ford's son, Albert, was the witness to a whipping administered to the little daughter of Mrs. Lizzie Wood. The little girl had made complaint to her mother that Mrs. Hershaw had whipped her over the head and neck, and Mrs. Wood called on Albert while he was passing her house to know if the statements of the little girl were true.

The mother of the boy claims that when Mrs. Hershaw heard of this, she took Albert to task, and, without giving him a chance to explain, she called him a liar and a baby, and whipped him severely. This occurred on March 4th, as is alleged in the complaint.

Mrs. Hershaw answered the charge by stating that she has been careful to try to conquer the inherent disposition of people of her race to lie and steal, and with that end in view, has had occasion to chastise pupils from time to time. She claims that she never whipped a child, and that it is his mother and not his father who makes the complaint, which she accounts for by the fact that Mrs. Ford owns her grudge.

She also speaks of how Mrs. Wood has shown herself unworthy in the matter, and concludes by reminding the board of the unexceptionable manner in which she has conducted herself.

The case is much talked about among the colored people in that part of the city, and the decision of the board on it will be watched with interest.

THE STRANDED SHOW.

An Order of Court Appointing Mr. Lester Permanent Receiver.

Mail & Bicycle repair, quartered at Jones & Rosser's stables, on Hunter street. Yesterday morning, by consent of the attorneys, Judge Marshall J. Clarke granted a hearing and passed an order making Mr. J. L. Lester permanent receiver.

Mr. Lester will proceed at once to wind up the affairs of the stranded show to the best advantage.

Balliff Williams is still in charge of the circus, and now that the animals are safely quartered, the expenses will be considerably lessened.

A number of the actors have been giving performances, corner Marietta and Forsyth streets, that have proven quite amusing, and have been pretty fairly patronized. The animal keepers take of charging admission to see the menagerie. The other unemployed members of the company, who are left here without means, will continue to give exhibitions and will endeavor to put up sufficient times and nickles to support themselves until something better turns up.

Grant's Comic Opera Company.

Popular prices will prevail next week when Grant's Comic Opera Company will appear in their best productions, beginning Monday by "The Black Hussar." At the price these charming plays are produced, everybody can afford to go there every day and pass a few hours very agreeably. They have been filling theaters everywhere, as can be seen from the following notice of the Augusta Chronicle:

"Comic opera at popular prices catches on in Augusta. A large house greeted 'Billow Teller' last night and liberal applause greeted the players. The favorites have already established themselves in the good will of the audience and the hearty greetings they receive evidence the appreciation of the company's talent. F. H. Frear and Gilbert Clayton are stars of their deserved reception. Frear's last hit on Augusta ladies and gentlemen and the awful ditty in 'Alison Account of Eliza' was received with rounds of applause. Miss May Douglas's singing is one of the charms of opera. The has the happy faculty of making the audience 'very becomingly' in all costumes that she dons. Waldo, too, has frequently won his compliments from the audience for his happy impersonation of the happy Tom making him and her 'Eliza' was a success."

MR. W. M. HARRISON'S DEATH.

He Died From An Attack of Heart Disease Yesterday Morning.

At his room, 715 Peachtree, Mr. Wilbur M. Harrison died at half past eleven o'clock yesterday.

His death was caused by heart disease. His first violent symptoms were made apparent Thursday, and Dr. Avery was sent for and used every possible effort to restore the stricken man, but to no avail. The patient grew rapidly worse until he died yesterday morning.

Mr. Harrison was a member of the firm of Harrison & Bro., wood and coal dealers, and was about thirty-six years old. With his brother, Mr. L. M. Harrison, he did an extensive business, and had been quite successful.

Mr. Harrison was born in Virginia and removed first to North Carolina, then to South Carolina, and finally to Atlanta, where he has been for several years.

He made many friends here by his liberality and generosity of heart, and there are many who will mourn his early death, coming as it does just in the prime of his manhood.

The funeral will occur at the residence of his brother, Mr. L. M. Harrison, No. 17 West Jenkins street, at ten o'clock tomorrow.

The pall-bearers—Dr. Amos Fox, Captain W. J. Tanner, Dr. G. W. Delbridge, Messrs. R. J. Jordan, John Clay Smith, Robert L. Sibley, J. B. Martin and A. L. James—are requested to assemble at Bliley's undertaking establishment at nine o'clock sharp.

THE DECATUR DUMMY.

Nothing Definite in Regard to Connecting Atlanta and Decatur.

Last night there was a large and enthusiastic citizens' meeting held at the courthouse in Decatur.

The object was to discuss the dummy. Major W. J. Houston was chairman of the meeting, and the main object of the meeting was the reception of the report of a committee—consisting of Major W. J. Houston, chairman, with Messrs. G. A. Ramspeck, E. L. Hanes, Jr., H. M. Scott, C. W. Smith and J. A. Scott—which was appointed to confer with Atlanta lines in regard to securing co-operation.

It was decided that nothing further could be done until the committee could have a conference with the North Atlanta Dummy Line company.

This line is the only one with which there is a fair prospect of securing suitable connections. A great effort will be made to secure the line, which the people of Decatur are determined shall be built at once so as to give them close and easy communication with the city.

SHOT FOR A TRAMP.

A MAN FOUND ON PONCE DE LEON CIRCLE BALLY HURT.

A Man Giving His Name as Cowan, Was Found on Ponce de Leon Circle Early Yesterday—He Looks Like a Tramp, But Seems Weak-Minded—His Home Believed to be in Macon.

Yesterday morning as Mr. John C. Todd was driving toward the city from his yard, near Ponce de Leon, he found a man lying in the road, near the home of Mr. C. E. Black.

The man was wounded and bleeding. He gave his name as T. A. Cowan, saying that he was traveling from his home in Ireland county, N. C., to Macon, where he claims that his father lives.

He was brought to the city and lodged in jail, where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Westmoreland.

The worst wound was made by a pistol ball that penetrated the left knee, and may cause permanent stiffness. The other was a pistol shot in the groin, that is painful but not likely to prove serious.

THE STORY OF THE SHOOTING. Thursday night about midnight Cowan attempted to enter the house of Tom Scott and Jim Webster, on Mr. John C. Todd's place, near Ponce de Leon. He was discovered by the inmates and frightened away.

He then visited Mr. William Castle's residence, and there tried to get in, but Mr. Castle scared him off with a shot gun.

A little after one o'clock yesterday morning he reached the residence of Mr. E. Black. The latter was awakened by his trying to break into the house, and he went out into the yard, but could not see any one.

THE MAN SHOT. A negro who lives near by came and called Mr. Black, saying that somebody was trying to break into his house.

Mr. Black armed himself with a pair of pistols, and again went out into the yard, when he discovered Cowan and called on him to halt.

The man stopped and Mr. Black demanded to know who he was and what he wanted. The stranger, instead of answering, sprang toward Mr. Black, who fired five shots at him. He fled in the darkness, and Mr. Black returned to the house, not knowing whether the man was hurt or not.

Cowan ran down the road a few hundred yards and fell, exhausted by loss of blood and the shock of his wounds. When found by Mr. Todd he was suffering greatly.

Cowan is a man of thirty or thirty-five years of age, and looks like a tramp. He wears a head of long red hair and a face full of bushy red whiskers, and in his cell at the jail was unable to give much of an account of himself.

He says that he went out to Ponce de Leon and got lost, and was wandering around trying to get an idea of his whereabouts when attacked by Mr. Black.

He claims to have a wife and child at his home in North Carolina.

MRS. COWAN FRANTIC

Over the Shooting of Her Son in Atlanta for a Burglar.

MACON, Ga., March 22.—[Special.]—THE CONSTITUTION'S correspondent heard this morning that a telegram had been received in newspaper circles in this city stating that a man named Cowan had been shot in Atlanta for a burglar, and that Cowan claimed to be from Ireland county, North Carolina, and was en route to Macon to see his father.

THE CONSTITUTION'S correspondent immediately commenced seeking for the Cowan family in Macon, and found that they resided at 1438 Fourth street. The first information the family received of the shooting was from the reporter. Mrs. Cowan, who is the wife of Mr. Abel M. Cowan, a carpenter, became nearly frantic with grief. She said she was not positive whether or not the man she was her son, but she had a son living in Ireland county, North Carolina, with her uncle, and she received a letter from him last Sunday, asking her to send him money to come home, and he may have obtained money from some other source and started for Macon. He is about seventeen years old.

THE ANNUAL POLICE INSPECTION.

The Commissioners View the Men—Gossip of the Election.

The annual police inspection was held yesterday forenoon at police headquarters.

All the commissioners were there. The patrolmen were inspected in blocks of ten and presented a very creditable appearance.

Gossip about the election is heard on all sides about the stationhouse. The list of officers is the leading topic in conversation of this sort. It is thought that "Doc" Moon stands an excellent chance to be a captain, if not chief of police, and that several others not now on the force are to be provided for.

There is good timber to choose from and some important changes may be made. There is as yet no indication as to the next chief, further than the evidence of the election, and considerable interest is felt in this as the time draws near for the election.
